

Conversion to HDTV will cost consumers and increase earnings for the general public, many of which have TV's less than 1 year old. Since this is a government initiated and legislation approval was gained, realizing the need for more air space, why not establish a tax credit, to purchase these HDTV's to offset initial investment.